Limiting rows by date in mysql I'm trying to retrieve data from mysql that is less than a month old, however I'm getting more data than I should be seeing. I'm trying the following: `SELECT username, comment, DATE(comment) as commentdate FROM usercomments WHERE commentdate >=
DATE_SUB(CURDATE(), INTERVAL 30 DAY) GROUP BY commentdate` This is not returning anything, as I can't even connect to the database and see if I have any records with a commentdate older than 30 days. My question is, how can I do this? Thank you A: You'll need a MySQL `WHERE` clause if you want to limit the results by date. Try something like this: `SELECT username, comment, DATE(comment) as commentdate FROM usercomments WHERE commentdate`

The C-arm ring in the adult: is it really needed, and is it easy? A cadaveric study. There is little evidence that in adult cadavers the C-arm ring, a landmark used to determine the lateralization of pathology, is of clinical relevance. To test this hypothesis, in 10 adult fresh-frozen cadavers a C-arm ring was cut with an oscillating saw and the sectioned cadavers were examined for "anchor points" within the cadaveric structures. We found anchor points on the popliteal fossa within the femoral head, within the patella, within the patellar ligament, and on the medial epicondyle. In none of the cadavers was there a corresponding "anchor point" on the lateral aspect. We conclude that in adults the C-arm ring in the C-arm of a modern X-ray system is of no value to determine the lateralization of pathology.
