Note If you're familiar with layers, you know that every image in a Photoshop document is composed of a series of layers. If you're a beginner, take a few moments to read Chapter 2 before beginning. In essence, layers are an `_index_` for the content you're manipulating—a place where you can organize all the items you want to keep track of while you're working. You can rearrange the elements on a layer, move them around, and otherwise manipulate them without affecting the other layers. You manipulate the elements of a layer, such as an image or a shape, using the Layer panel's Layers palette (if you want to change the names of your layers, click the Layer panel's Show Layer Panel button, which is near the top right of the panel). If you want to delete a layer, click the layer's trash can icon at the bottom of the panel; if you want to delete a whole group of layers, use the Select menu, which you see in Figure 13

Beverage Bill Gets Final Hearings Hartford - A bill to ban most tobacco products from alcohol wholesalers goes before the legislature for the final time Wednesday. House Bill 5598 would ban tobacco products, including cigarettes, chewing tobacco and electronic cigarettes, from being sold at liquor and wine stores, clubs and convenience stores in Connecticut. Cigarettes are already banned from restaurants and bars. The sponsor, Rep. Justin Dibble, D-Columbia, said he and supporters think small amounts of tobacco used to flavor alcohol are not addictive, and he said he feels it's "irresponsible" to make liquor stores a place where patrons can inhale smoke. But opponents said the bill, approved by the House Judiciary Committee last week, is unconstitutional and unconstitutional because it is an overly broad ban on free speech. They have said the tobacco industry contributes $3 million a year to the state's general fund. The Senate is not expected to take up the bill this session. The bill is designed to have a public hearing before it goes to the floor for the House vote.

Q: Word for the color of eyes looking into a small circle I'm looking for a word, but I'm not sure how to describe the color, shape, or color tone of eyes looking into a small circle (like the picture shows). I thought it might be a shade of grey? A: With a simple question like this, the best we can do is to offer a few possibilities: Had they been drinking a lot? (living in a big city, where people drink a lot, there are a ton of euphemisms for drunkenness. "over the limit" and "over the edge" are just two of many.) Had they been smoking marijuana? (it's another one of those euphemisms.) Had they been under the influence of "ecstasy"? No established term. A: Such circles are called either 'spots' or 'bubbles.'

Differential response of two Pseudomonas strains to salt stress in vitro. Pseudomonas sp. MPI-0004E and Pseudomonas sp. MPI-0557 were isolated from activated sludge from a full scale WWTP treating mining-impacted contaminated waters, and were shown to outcompete the indigenous microbial population in terms of growth and pollutant degradation rates in nutrient- and organic-rich media. The objective of this study was to determine if these strains are osmotolerant, as this characteristic is critical for bioremediation of high salinity brackish or saline polluted waters. Two bacterial strains isolated from polluted waters were cultured in various saline conditions and their growth was monitored in vitro. Salt tolerance index (STI) was used as a measure of salt tolerance. Different concentrations of NaCl were tested in order to determine the dose that would allow 50% (STI50) and 95% (STI95) of the bacterial population to grow. The growth kinetics of the two strains were very different: growth of strain MPI-0557 was severely inhibited in media containing >40 g/L NaCl while MPI-0004E grew relatively well in the presence of more than 75 g/L NaCl. Salt tolerance ability of two strains was compared with a standard laboratory strain. Salt tolerant strain MPI-0557 grew in 3-10% NaCl concentration while salt sensitive strain MPI-0004E could only grow in 1% NaCl concentration. Growth curves showed that MPI-0557 grew about twice as fast as MPI-0004E. Maximum STIs of these two strains were 1.5 and 4.4 after 24 h culture, respectively. The bacterial population of MPI-0557 decreased rapidly after salt stress while that of MPI-0004E decreased slowly after salt stress. Consequently, MPI-0557 was more salt tolerant than MPI-0004E.
