The piece would explore the evolution of the African American musical genre known as "r&b". This genre is usually accompanied by a synthesizer or "sampling" style keyboard, which allows the performer to activate the piano or "sample" style keyboard via a MIDI controller. Need The need for this project is to bring together the traits of the r&b genre along with hip hop dance and create a unique and aesthetic performance. A. Figure out the purpose of the "r&b" genre. A brief history of r&b will also be needed, such as when and where it started, and what has it evolved into today. B. Relate r&b back to its roots in traditional African music. All r&b styles have deep ties to African culture, such as the West African spirit and religion and the Chicago, New Orleans and British U.S. conventions. A brief history of the existence of African slave trade, as well as the historical references to the Civil Rights movement, will also be included. C. Create an original choreography inspired by the current popular music style r&b. D.

Create a performance costume for the "r&b" style. E. Develop a performance script that will provide depth and context as to the purpose and meaning of the performance. Materials Required equipment Tunings The MIDI controller will need to be tuned to the same settings as the Piano. The piano may also need to be tuned for proper performance. The sample keyboard is at the user's leisure. Any digital audio editing programs are not required. Required instruments Any other instruments that may be used are for the user's pleasure.
