REVIEWS: "This is an awesome android game and one of the best i've seen" (Google Play) "It's refreshing to see a game that gets you the point of the word with examples. " "The underlying concept is a good one - you start with a standard grid, and a letter appears in each empty square. You have to guess which letter is there. If you guess right, you move to another square (having to guess, rather than type in a word). If you guess wrong, you have to try again. The trick is that there is also a tiny "jigsaw puzzle" image which can be rotated around the playing field to help you guess the letter. If you've seen the TV series Lock, Stock, and Two Smoking Barrels you'll recognise the theme." "I played it a while ago and would like to call it a very good concept for a word game. The rules are fairly intuitive. You should have fun." "I like it. It gives out the definition of a word right when you press it, so you know how far you have to guess. It could have been easier for an Android version. Please add an options screen so we can choose to have the definition appear right away, and unlock hints if we want that. Lastly, this is an amazing app, so I really don't know why it hasn't been downloaded more by Android users." "
