You should be prompted to enter your password when you open a terminal. This is all done on the computer hosting the file, which is probably your Mac. If you are connected to the Windows machine via another computer, you can try the following: Start Search (on Windows 10) Type %localappdata% Copy the folder \AppData\Local\ in the window that appears After some time, hopefully when the command line completes, check if you can locate the folder you just copied using ls -l, which should return similar or identical results in your Mac terminal and the Windows command line. In the Mac's case, you should see symbolic links to the folder, in the Windows case, you might see folders inside this folder. Check that gvfs-mtpfs is running. Check that your data is contained in that folder. If you don't have access to the Windows machine, the only thing you can do is to upload a copy of the file to the cloud to find in there.
