A strategic, PvE-RPG with powerful loot, exciting boss fights, and an epic story. Build your team of bounty hunters, and gear up to battle hordes of powerful enemies. Darkzone is a PvE-RPG set in a living world, and no two games are ever the same. As a bounty hunter, you'll fight for justice, slay monsters, and collect gear to design your perfect gear and build, and also find Legendaries to instantly upgrade your hero while also unlocking crafting recipes. Each fight starts with a tactical turn-based battle with your bounty hunters, and features an exciting array of unique battle mechanics, like auto attacks, spells, movement, buffs, and more. As the story unfolds, you'll be able to form alliances and adventure with other bounty hunters in real-time to take down heavily guarded locations and delve into real-time co-op boss fights. Enter the world of Darkzone as a hero, and fight to take revenge on a corrupt criminal mastermind and his criminal syndicate for the evil they did to you. Join our Discord server for real-time news, discussion, and exclusive stream content. You want all this, but do you REALLY want to go exploring on your own? Is that really a wise idea? If you want to just get your loot, gear, and power up your hero, drop everything and drop in, and not have to worry about class, statistics, and gear. Join us in this story-driven FREE trial and decide for yourself if this is your kind of idle RPG. Everything in the game is free to play, whether it's for one mission, or to buy a complete game and gain access to all the content. All in-game purchases are optional. You can spend as much as you like, and enjoy the game forever. You are now playing the Darkzone Beta 1.3.0 - The arena is now in Deep Core and there are already powerful new challenges in the tunnels!

Features: - This update introduces a new NPC portrait and the ability to see your XP and loot on the Arena screen. - Deep Core has been completely redesigned with new areas, new monsters, more loot, new kinds of challenges, and a deeper progression system! - Added half-power auto-attacks to all classes - Another, even darker raid has been made available after completing the tutorial - A new challenge has been added to this challenge - This new challenge requires both

Bros Players Want More Challenge When it comes to challenge, the choices of PC content for the Pathfinder 2 RPG can be almost overwhelming. It can be overwhelming to call up a game store to see what is available, or to call your local game store to determine what they have in stock. Often the players are at a loss trying to get enough information before making the decision to purchase. While there are many great RPG options to choose from, there is so much available to get players excited about. However, if a customer is prone to being overwhelmed by the choices or even just needing that extra push to get started, the Pathfinder 2 RPG Club offers a perfect choice to folks. Two Samples of the Same Game: World War Z by David Collins While I have been traveling and haven't been able to get my game club together, the Centaur Games team has been at it! Last Friday saw them host the first Pathfinder Society mission, or did it? There is a difference between the mission played and the mission presented. The visit to the Storehouse of Wonder is not a full-fledged mission, per se. It is a series of events and locations where players were able to garner information. It also included two players as recruiters into the PCs team. The last bit and a great example of the storytelling and storytelling lead you through a trip to another world. A campaign in another setting can be very useful for PCs. As a supplement, the story and scintillating deeds from the finished product expands the Pathfinder 2 RPG experience from the experience of a rookie newbie to an actual experienced more mature players. A quick wiki of one of the setting locations for the world War Z setting was presented and then the leaders of the PCs gave their suggestions of where they wanted to travel. There was a rich history of this world, providing some real changes to throw into a one shot adventure or a long term campaign. The difference between the World War Z campaign and Pathfinder 2 RPG missions and events is the outcome of the players adventures. A podcast with David Collins, Sam Hawley, and Jeremy Crawford, who presented the event, explained the difference quite well in an interview that they did with Joe Preken. The entire interview was posted, but it isn't complete with all the details, so I am using the interview at the end of this article as a reference. Nathan: There was a little bit of a point to World War Z where in the first one you're kind of Ten years have passed since the events of the original Pillars of Eternity, and a new threat has emerged from the enigmatic Depths. The Lost League has arrived. A cabal of legendary heroes and villains who have long been forgotten, has emerged from the infinite waters to find their strength again. The Lost League's deadliest secret weapon is their power-hungry Overlord. Led by an unimaginable ancient threat, it is now up to the remnants of the two great alliances, the Empire of the Isles and the Silver Flame, to unite their disparate forces and battle this new threat. You are the new hero of the world's last hope. Your quest for power carries the fate of the Deadfire Archipelago on your shoulders, and you will make your mark upon the world through history's first modern role playing game. The original Pillars of Eternity was a breakout hit, and the true legacy of the original design lives on in this sequel. Visit the official Pillars of Eternity II website: Discuss Pillars of Eternity II: Deadfire in our forum: Can I create a view that will dynamically add/delete columns? In SSMS, I can see all of the columns in a table (not the keys) from the Design View. Is it possible to create a View in SQL Server 2008 R2 which will list the columns in the specified table, but NOT count the number of rows (for example, the number of rows in a particular column) in the view? A: If you want SQL

Server to show the information schema metadata about the columns of a particular table, then there is no need to display the number of rows in the table. MSDN has some information on the information_schema. A live example of the view can be created with the following query: `SELECT column_name, ordinal_position FROM information_schema.columns WHERE table_name = 'dbname.tablename' ORDER BY ordinal_position ASC`; Q: Return single list of values from multiple lists in a dictionary Python I have a dictionary like this in Python: {'abc': [0, 11, 13, 15], 'def': [2, 22, 23, 24], 'ghi': [0, 14], 'jkl': [0,
