Share This Article:Q: Should i use netbeans platform or eclipse or both to develop java web based application? what is the advantage of using netbeans platform over eclipse and vice versa.I need to develop a java web application.
A: If you're using JSP, then I'd recommend you use Spring Framework, and Netbeans with the Spring Tool Suite: Eclipse does support Spring as well, but it's a bit harder to configure, if you're doing your own server configuration.
With the Spring Tool Suite you can easily choose to use Tomcat as your container. The beauty of the Netbeans version is that you don't need to install Spring Framework separately, you just install the Netbeans version that you're using, and there's a Spring tab in the New Web Project Wizard that gives you all the framework requirements for Spring.
I've used both versions for my Spring based web apps, and I prefer Netbeans. A
